

By Tom Krasovic, Union-Tribune Staff Writer

Monday, March 30, 2009

Notable

– Indians president Paul Dolan said the club is thrilled with Goodyear Ballpark and the team's nearby training complex, a project managed by JMI Sports. Created by Padres owner John Moores and run by UCSD and SDSU alum Erik Judson, JMI Sports is the development manager for more than $400 million in projects. "They have done a phenomenal job of quarterbacking a complex project," Dolan said. "We moved to Goodyear because the opportunity the community presented to us through JMI Sports was far superior to all proposals or concepts offered by Florida communities."